

Invited Speaker

Dr. Philippe Vassilopoulos

Lecturer at Sciences Po,
Director of Product Development
EPEX Spot, Paris/France

Recent developments in flexibility markets: a market operator's perspective (G0702)

| Talk Title

Recent developments in flexibility markets: A market operator's perspective

| Biography

Director of Product Development at EPEX SPOT where he also served as Economist and Market Surveillance Officer. Before joining EPEX SPOT, Philippe was an Associate Director with IHS Cambridge Energy research Associates (HIS CERA). He specialises in the European wholesale power and gas markets. His expertise includes market design, price formation and price modelling, asset valuation and due diligence, regulations as well as market surveillance. Philippe also conducted applied research on price signals and investment incentives in the European electricity markets for the French regulator Commission de Regulation de l'Energie.